A submarine belonging to the French navy was seized by the Royal Navy Seals after they boarded her in the Arabian Sea. The Royal Navy Seals believe that it was carrying nuclear weapons. This footage was released by the Royal Navy Seals. The French nuclear submarine Cedrelle was seized after the British boarded her after she came under suspicion for carrying nuclear weapons. The French navy has not confirmed or denied the reports. The submarine was last seen in the Arabian Sea in the Gulf of Aden on Wednesday. This incident is taking place at a very vital time for Britain. They are negotiating with the US to join the US-led military coalition to destroy the Islamic State, also called Daesh. The British Government needs to demonstrate that the US can trust it to not use the British military to strike its own interests. The French submarine was en route to the Mediterranean and the North African Countries to avoid the area where Islamic State is trying to make a beachhead. The Telegraph reported that the Royal Navy Seals boarded the French nuclear submarine Cedrelle on the 6th of November. The Royal Navy Seals had to search the submarine before they were allowed to board her. They found containers that held nuclear material on the submarine and believes that the Cedrelle had been carrying nuclear weapons. The Royal Navy Seals said that they are not going to say how they boarded the submarine and any details about the incident. They also say that they are not going to discuss the search and boarding of the submarine. They will just confirm that the French submarine was boarded and that they boarded her for a "security" reason. The Royal Navy Seals also say that any information that was found on the submarine will be released within 24 hours. They say that their job is to protect the public and make sure that the British public is safe. They are not in the business of assessing the threat level of the submarine or the threat level of the weapons that were on the submarine. One of the Seals said, "This is the French Navy."
