Chandni Chowk To China (2009) English Subtitle.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a toner developing apparatus used in an image forming apparatus, such as a copying machine, a facsimile, a printer, or the like. 2. Description of the Related Art Recently, a toner developing apparatus in which a developing roller, a toner layer thickness controlling member, a supply roller, a developing blade, and a conveyor roller are integrally molded in a housing body has been developed. In the toner developing apparatus, generally, a thin toner layer is formed on the developing roller and an electrostatic latent image is visualized by supplying the toner from the toner layer to the developing roller. The toner layer on the developing roller is not thick, but is in a form of a thin film. However, in the toner developing apparatus, when toner passes between the supply roller and the developing roller and a surface of the developing roller and when the developing blade is pressed against the developing roller, toner tends to enter between the developing roller and the developing blade. If the toner enters between the developing roller and the developing blade, the toner may not be uniformly supplied to the developing roller and an accurate electrostatic latent image is not visualized. If the toner enters between the developing roller and the developing blade, the toner in the toner layer is easily moved and also the toner is scattered. Therefore, the toner layer may not be uniformly maintained on the developing roller. To prevent the toner from entering between the supply roller and the developing roller, the toner may be discharged in a longitudinal direction by a discharge port provided on the developing roller. If a number of discharge ports are provided, a resistance of the developing roller against the toner becomes large and a durability of the developing roller becomes short. In addition, in the toner developing apparatus, generally, a toner supply port is formed on the developing roller and a toner supply pipe is inserted through the toner supply port. When the toner supply pipe 2d92ce491b
